

Pannier Antiques South Molton

Bright blue pattern brings a vibrant look to this Brannam charger

Seahorse design brings hint of ocean to Victorian charger

February 19, being the third Sunday of the month, is a firm date in people's diaries as they look forward to visiting Pannier Antiques in South Molton.

Established traders will be joined by newcomers keen to develop a reputation for quality goods from furniture to jewellery, from ceramics to paintings, from cigarette cards to primus stoves and all items in between.

Organiser Michael

Buckingham, specialising in North Devon ceramics, is pleased to have several new and exciting items on his stall including a Brannam charger decorated with seahorses, dated 1900. There is also a selection of Fishley Holland pottery.

South Molton is fast becoming the centre in North Devon for antiques so do come along on Sunday, February 19.
